iPad ACCEPTABLE USE POLICY

Statement of Responsibility

The use of the iPad is a privilege. The user is responsible for what he/she says and does on his/her school assigned iPad. Network administrators will make reasonable efforts to maintain reliable service. They cannot, however, absolutely guarantee that the system will always be available or operating correctly. Student should know that none of their data is private or confidential. Any communication or data may be subject to review by network or school administration.

Parent/Guardian Responsibilities

Talk to your student about values and the standards that your student should follow on the use of the Internet just as you would on the use of all media information sources such as television, telephones, movies, and radio.

Take extra steps to protect your child. Encourage your child to use and store the iPad in an open area of your home, such as the kitchen or family room, so you can monitor what your child is doing online. Use the Internet with your child to help enforce safe browsing habits. Children often model adult behavior.

Go where your child goes online. Monitor the places that your child visits. Let your child know that you're there, and help teach her/him how to act as s/he works and socializes online.

Review your child's friends list. You may want to limit your child's online "friends" to people your child actually knows and is working with in real life.

Understand sites' privacy policies. Internet sites should spell out your rights to review and delete your child's information.

Limit the time your student is on the iPad. While the iPad is a very engaging device, it is a school work device. Care and constant monitoring will reduce your child's exposure to excessive use. Students should not have access to an iPad after 10 PM.

Report unwelcome or malicious online threats. Report in a timely fashion to the school any online interactions that can be considered threatening.

Help your child develop a routine. Many parents have found success by helping create a routine for their child's computer use. Define a routine as to how the iPad is cared for and when and where its use is appropriate.

Take a look at the apps or programs. It is to the advantage of the students, parents, and school that the parents have a working understanding of the programs and student work found on the iPad.

Read and share with your child the SUHSD care and use policies. By reading and discussing the care and use policies, you can create a clear set of expectations and limitations for your child.

Please explain to your child that his/her iPad may be selected at random to provide their iPad for inspection. Your child should have NO expectation of privacy of any materials found on an iPad.

Remind your child to bring his/her iPad to school daily. If your child leaves his/her iPad at home, he/she is responsible for getting the course work completed as if he/she had an iPad present.
